

ESREA newsletter

Number 1, spring 2016

Dear ESREA member,

This is my first newsletter as the new secretary of ESREA. I hope you will find it interesting. 2016 is a special year with the Triennial Conference in Maynooth, Ireland where we will celebrate that the idea of ESREA was born 25 years ago. ESREA also have a new logo. Thus, there are lots of things to commemorate as we proceed with promoting research on the education of adults in Europe and beyond. I hope you do not mind me changing the design of the newsletter a bit . . .

ESREA:s Triennial European Research Conference encourages the widest possible forum for the exchange of on-going research activities in Europe. ESREA conferences have been held 1995 in Strobl, 1998 in Bruxelles, 2001 in Lisbon, 2004 in Wroclaw, 2007 in Seville, 2010 in Linköping and 2013 in Berlin. Read more about the conference and get an up-date from the last SC meeting on the next page. Hope to see you in Maynooth in September!

Sincerely,

Dr Fredrik Sandberg

Linköping University, Sweden

Secretary of ESREA

Notes from the SC meeting

Preparing the future: news from the Steering Committee

The SC of ESREA met in Milano in February 23-24 and the minutes will be published soon on the website. Here is a short account of our discussion - beyond the financial, formal, and practical decisions.

This is the third year of the SC, elected in 2014 - hence a moment for assessment is needed. We discussed the action plan, i.e. the tool used by the SC to keep an open dialogue and to reflect on what we are doing. Adding to this a 2014-2016 report will be prepared for the closing of this triennium, before the elections in November.

The Triennial Research Conference, this year in Maynooth, is a main occasion for ESREA. When all networks are gathered it is possible to get an overall view of what is going on. So, it is quite natural to think of it as a special moment for reflection, dialogue, and the emergence of new ideas. During the conference, there will be a meeting between the conveners, the members of the SC and the RELA editors, to assess the present and think about the future. We realized that the very idea of ESREA was born in 1991, 25 years ago. It is great to have an occasion to celebrate this quarter of a century, and the incredible success of an association that did big things with a very low budget and a lot of passion and – it must be said! – Huge amount of voluntary work.

The agenda of ESREA is very rich. During this triennium, we decided to more explicitly support the training of new researchers, by sustaining summer and winter schools. There is still a lot to do in making sure that we receive more proposals. We are also discussing the possibility to develop a 'ESREA branded' school, involving as many institutions as possible among our associates.

Our publication activity is doing very well. RELA has a new issue out with 7 papers, thematic issues are in line and calls for papers are out. The inflow of submissions and the numbers of visitors and downloads are very high and increasing. The book series has many downloads, but it is time for new proposals. The cycle from book idea to an edited book is long. We invite the networks to make use of this opportunity to make their research work visible.

We need to make an effort to improve and update information about the Networks' activities. So, let's prepare for the future. The discussion about ESREA's aims, organization and action needs to be shared with associates and conveners. We live in complex times, in the middle of a generational shift and with big changes in academia. Creativity, solidarity, and a critical sight need to be developed. The discussion continues at the next meeting and during the Conference in Maynooth.

See you there,

Laura Formenti, Chair of the Steering Committee
