European Society for Research on the Education of Adults

ESREA newsletter No. 5 November 2009

Dear ESREA member

Here is the last ESREA newsletter for this year. We can look back at a successful ESREA year with seven conferences and meeting organized; the creation of several new networks; a substantial increase in number of members; an increase in participation at our meetings and conferences; the publication of two books in our series with Peter Lang; and the launching of a new journal titled the European Journal for Research on the Education and Learning of Adults (RELA).

As you will see in this newsletter, we have several conferences planned for next year. Hope to see many of you there. I would like to point out that the deadline for submission of abstracts for the ESREA triennial conference, the conference when all networks come together, is January 15, 2010. More information available at www.liu.se/esrea2010 The conference takes place in Linköping, Sweden, September 23-26 2010.

Best wishes

Dr. Andreas Fejes

NEW ESREA JOURNAL

European Journal for Research on the Education and Learning of Adults

ESREA have launched a new open access journal titled: The European journal for Research on the Education and Learning of Adults (RELA)

Aim/Scope of RELA

The European journal for Research on the Education and Learning of Adults (RELA) is a refereed academic journal creating a forum for the publication of critical research on adult education and learning. It has a particular focus on issues at stake for adult education and learning in Europe, as these emerge in connection with wider international and transnational dynamics and trends. Such a forum is important at a time when local and regional explorations of issues are often difficult to foreground across language barriers. As academic and policy debate is increasingly carried out in the English language, this masks the richness of research knowledge, responses and trends from diverse traditions and foci. The journal thus attempts to be linguistically 'open access'. Whilst creating a forum for international and transnational debate, contributions are particularly welcome from authors in Europe and other locations where English is not the first language.

ESREA

European Society for Research on the Education of Adults

RELA invites original, scholarly articles that discuss the education and learning of adults from different academic disciplines, perspectives and traditions. It encourages diversity in theoretical and methodological approach and submissions from non-English speakers. Contributions will be subject to a rigorous peer review process. Clarity and conciseness of thought are crucial requirements for publication.

RELA is published on behalf of the European Society for Research on the Education of Adults (ESREA).

Number of publications

Two issues are published each year, each including:

1. Articles related to an issue theme
2. Open papers (unrelated to the theme)
3. Book reviews
